

Fall in love with your packaging!

At New Vision, we l-o-v-e what we do. We adore coming up with new and innovative packaging ideas and seeing as it's Valentine's Day we thought it would be apt to share a few reasons why we l-o-v-e the packaging industry:

- We heart packaging because it's constantly evolving

You can never say packaging is boring. With packaging trends and fashions changing from season to season and new printing technologies constantly evolving, it certainly never is dull in the New Vision office.

- We love a challenge

At New Vision, a challenging brief is certainly something we never shy away from. Are you in need of new ideas for an exciting new product? Send it our way and we will be sure to blow your minds with our innovative ideas.

- Our customers are fantastic!

It's certainly true. Great people attract great people. Our customers are the greatest and we love working with them.

- Variety

We love our work and the variety it brings. We work with cartons, vac forms and plastic packaging and specialise in beauty, alcohol gifting and confectionery packaging - meaning every job we get is different! From chocolate boxes to beard grooming sets - we are the people you need.

- Creativity

We love working in packaging because every day we think out of the box. We get to bring to life ideas and being creative with boxes is our speciality.

But for some reason, if you don't love your existing packaging, swipe left and give us a call!

We can transform your brief into reality and we promise you'll love the end result.
